SUTT JOB DAMAGES AGAINST THE STRAMEN HANGETT.—Before United States Commissioner McCandless, at Pittsburgh, John Barton, ir., Esq., has instituted a suit on behalf of James Campe and Wm. Smith, two young men, not over twenty-two years of age, against the steam tug Ike Hammett, for wages to the amount of $75 each. The counsel also brought suit for damages in the name of the young men mentioned, against Samuel Parker, Captain, and Jas. Potter, owner of the said vessel, claiming $2,000 in each case. The defendants belong to the Eastern district, Wheeling. The plaintiffs affidavit is quite lengthy, and also very interesting. We therefore append a synopsis of the same:

They set out by reciting the fact that on Movember 21st they shipped as deck hands upon the like Hammett, the boat then being at the Pittsburgh wharf, the Captain having engaged them to go to New Orleans, the trip to occupy 90 days, for which service they were to receive $25 per month each. They conducted themselves properly, obey d all the officers of the bost, and they projected as lar as Cairo, where the boat laid up. The tow in charge of the Hammett was here trunsferred to the Coal Hill, owned by the same defendants, and the Captain discharged the plaintiffs. This was on December 60m—14 days after leaving Pittsmy15 HORNEROOK'S BLOCK.

AN ACCOMMODATING ENGINEER An Accommodating Engineer.—The other day John Longley, of the Bellaire Independent, while on a train on the St. Clairaville Narrow Guage Road, on route for Bellaire lost his hat from a car window, Longley, with that sublime confidence in the insenty of the press which is characteristic of the fraternity, immediately pulled, the bell rope, and when the conductor came in requested him to stop the train antil he could go back and get his tile. The conductor said he couldn't wait, as he had only five minutes in which to reach the station and connect with the Central Ohio train, and had two or three miles to make. Longley got out, however, and the train proceeded to Bellaire. After reaching Bellaire the engineer unbooked his engine from the train and went-back for PEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD CO. gine from the train and went back fo the Independent man, and picking him up, carried him and his hat in triumph to town.
